

Forgiveness is like a jigsaw puzzle.

We have all of the pieces, and some fit together really quickly. Each time we revisit the puzzle, we see another section, and that comes quickly then - when it was seemingly impossible before. Problem is, the pieces are in a bag, and we can't see them all at once.

Otherwise, we might give up, thinking the whole puzzle an impossible feat.